

What do you not like/ what are the differences between the images?

What do you like/what are the similarities between the images?

What facts do you know about what is being shown in these images?

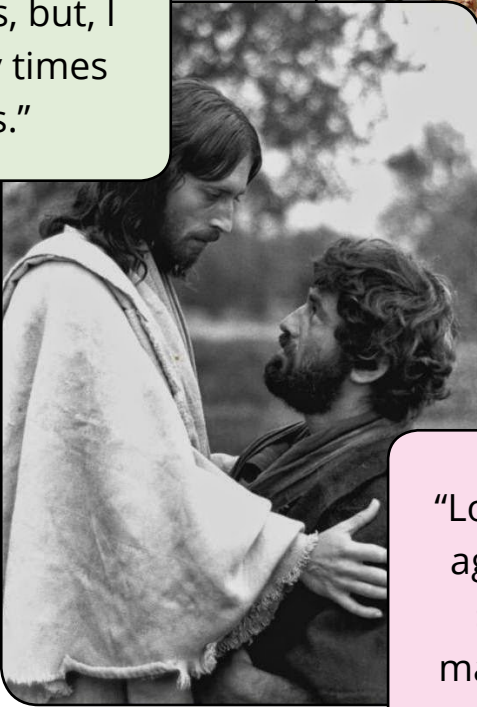

How do you feel about these images?
What emotions are the images trying to portray to people?

What conclusions could you come to about these images? What questions could you ask?

"Not seven times, but, I tell you, seventy times seven times."

"Lord, if my brother sins against me, how often should I forgive? As many as seven times?"