

How has the intended recipient affected the language used in these emails?

Hello all!

As part of the A Level language course, students have to analyse how language has changed in the 21st Century. I am planning a lesson on the use of internet memes and how they have influenced 21st Century grammar and was wondering if any of you had any good examples that you were aware of? This could also extend to Buzz feed lists etc etc.

Any suggestions greatly appreciated!

Thanks

Suzie

Email from a teacher to multiple colleagues

Hi all,

I have put a reading prose practice paper (Jurassic Park) in the Reading Prose file on the shared area. The document contains an extract, questions and notes for answers. Use/adapt/ignore as necessary!

Suzie

Email from a teacher to an entire department.

Not at all - this is glorious!

Email from a teacher to a single colleague.