

Example 1:

Ramotswe went to South Africa because 'things were bad in the past' in his home country of Botswana and he had to leave to find work. He also went because his father said he 'should go'. He went because his father's lands were 'not good enough' to support Obed and a wife and due to them not having enough cattle to support them all. The last reason he went is because he knew his father's lands grew 'just enough crops' which wouldn't make them enough money.

Example 2:

- 'I had no desire to leave my country, but things were bad in the past.'
- 'My father said I should go, as his lands were not good enough to support me and a wife.'
- 'We did not have many cattle, and we grew just enough crops to keep us through the year.'

Example 3:

Five reasons why Ramotswe went to South Africa are:

- He said 'things were bad in the past'.
- His father said he 'should go'.
- His father's 'lands were not good enough to support' Obed and his wife.
- They 'did not have many cattle'.
- They only 'grew just enough crops' for the year- not enough to make money.
